

Balance and Harmony, a Classical Horsemanship In-Hand and Riding Clinic with Tina Cope

March 17 - 18, 2012 at Oak Hill Ranch in Folsom, Louisiana

A Happy Horse, makes for a Happy Rider!!

RIDING IS A DELICATE ART, PURELY AESTHETIC POETRY IN MOTION.

Based on the principles of Nuno Oliveria, the world renowned riding master from Portugal.

Tina's goal is to educate both horse and rider on straightness and balance to develop the topline of the horse so that he naturally becomes ROUND throughout his entire body creating a supple back, neck, jaw, and limbs which in turn, makes for a more comfortable horse to ride.

COST for a one hour private session is $110, $60 for a half hour private session, or $75 for a one hour semi-private session. We welcome auditors for a $10 fee/person/day. There will also be a videographer on the premises to record your riding lessons. If you are interested in this service let us know and we will include a $20 charge for each lesson. A DVD will be mailed to you in approximately 14 days.

We are privileged to have two guest speakers in attendance that will provide additional insight to overall equine health. On Saturday, March 17, beginning at 12:00pm, Konni Waltrip, a certified Equine Neuromuscular Massage Therapist, will be speaking on the importance of equine massage therapy, the anatomy and physiology of the horse, and demonstrating different massage techniques to keep your horses relaxed after training sessions. Also, Dr. Lance Cleveland, a certified Animal Chiropractor will join us for a hands-on workshop on Sunday, March 18 beginning at 12:00pm. Here he will introduce riders to equine chiropractic care and instruct riders how to properly stretch their horses to keep them relaxed and supple.
